

Talent2 has been recognised as a Leader in Learning Outsourcing

Each year since 2004, Training Industry, Inc., the US based industry body, has assessed the leading companies in the Learning industry to determine those best suited for world-class outsourcing engagements. This year, they contacted over 500 companies, across all countries, to assess their expertise, experience, and capabilities. A special emphasis was placed on recognising companies with comprehensive capabilities, resources, and experience in providing learning services.

These companies are recognised industry leaders that have demonstrated innovation and excellence in providing outsourced learning services in selected business process categories and are poised to increase their level of services to clients. The Committee also stressed the importance of innovation in learning analytics and evaluation methods used to assess the impact of learning on business performance.

The primary goal for publishing this prestigious list is to provide corporate, government, and training executives with a directory of highly qualified, successful, and proven training partners.

A huge congratulations goes out to everyone in the Optimise team for this achievement and the outstanding commitment and effort that has gone into growing our reputation. It is a significant step in continuing to give our clients and prospects the confidence that we are in the company of the "best of the best", a leader in our industry and the best partner in the region to manage their learning needs.
